

Civil Disputes

Frequently the police are called to resolve disputes between neighbors, landlord/tenant, seller/buyer, etc. If this is the case and the responding officer determines that the issue is a civil (not criminal) matter, he may or may not (depending on the circumstances) complete a report and refer the involved parties to the appropriate Court for resolution.